

Alexander's Law

- Describes the gaze evoked increase in amplitude of nystagmus that occurs when looking in the direction of the fast phase of nystagmus (direction of saccadic movements).
- This can occur in those with idiopathic nystagmus but especially in those with vestibular lesions.
- Examples:
 - YouTube
 - Wikipedia

nystagmus

From:

<https://childreneye.org/wiki/> - Children's Eye Wiki

Permanent link:

https://childreneye.org/wiki/doku.php?id=alexander_s_law

Last update: 2023/12/20 17:18

