

Azithromycin for Blepharokeratoconjunctivitis in Children

- Oral Azithromycin 5mg/kg/day
- Once daily dosing
- Recheck in monthly intervals
- May combine with other topical anti-inflammatory treatment as needed

Sources

Oral azithromycin combined with topical anti-inflammatory agents in the treatment of blepharokeratoconjunctivitis in children. JAAPOS 2013 Feb;17(1):112-3

Oral Antibiotics for Meibomian Gland-Related Ocular Surface Disease (AAO OTA)

drugs,, blepharitis

From:

<https://childreneye.org/wiki/> - Children's Eye Wiki

Permanent link:

<https://childreneye.org/wiki/doku.php?id=azythromycin>

Last update: 2020/10/06 23:38

