

Ocular Complications from Chemotherapeutic Agents

MEK inhibitors

- Selumetinib, Binimetinib, Trametinib, Cobimetinib
 - Blurred vision, diplopia, eyelid edema, subconjunctival hemorrhage, increased lacrimation
 - Retinal pigment epithelial detachment, Central serous-like retinopathy

References

- Ocular toxicities of MEK inhibitors and other targeted therapies. Stjepanovic et al. Annals of Oncology. Volume 27, Issue 6, June 2016, Pages 998-1005
- Clinical and Morphological Characteristics of MEK Inhibitor-Associated Retinopathy. Francis, Jasmine H. et al. Ophthalmology. 2017-12, Vol.124 (12), p.1788-1798

From:

<https://childreneye.org/wiki/> - Children's Eye Wiki

Permanent link:

https://childreneye.org/wiki/doku.php?id=ocular_complications_chemotherapeutic_agents

Last update: 2024/05/17 09:21

